

Website Terms and Conditions

Using our Website

This website is available for your personal use and viewing. Access and use of this site constitutes your acceptance of these terms and conditions. Any questions or comments should be directed to reception@alexandervets.co.uk

Disclaimer

This website is provided as an online guide to the practice and services we offer: it is for informational purposes only and not intended to be a substitute for professional medical advice, diagnosis or treatment. Always seek the advice of your Veterinary Surgeon with any questions you may have relating to your pet's health.

Copyright

Material remains the property of Alexander Veterinary Centre Ltd and may not be copied, photocopied, or reproduced without prior consent. This excludes the Information Sheets for which information is collected from various sources and is not the property of Alexander Veterinary Centre Ltd.

Linking to the Alexander Veterinary Centre Website

Permission is not required to link to this website.

Links from the Alexander Veterinary Centre Website

We are not responsible for the content or reliability of the websites linked to from this site & we have no control over the reliability or availability of linked pages. If you have a site which you believe would be of interest to our clients and would like us to place it on our links page, please email us at reception@alexandervets.co.uk including a description of your site and the URL.